

Vollrath and Chefs' Toys Partner to Support Orange County School of the Arts

Sheboygan, Wis. – February 18, 2020 – Vollrath Company, a leader in the foodservice equipment industry, and Chefs' Toys, a TriMark Company, joined forces to sponsor the Orange County School of the Arts (OCSA) Throwdown Culinary Competition held in California on January 24, 2020.

Two student/teacher teams competed head-to-head for the title of Throwdown Chef Champions. The culinary teams used Vollrath's Mirage induction ranges and induction cookware to prepare their dishes. The teams also had a selection of cooking tools provided by Chefs' Toys to use during the competition to create their masterpieces.

The entire event was fashioned after the format of famous TV cook-offs, featuring a cast of popular hosts and judges.

"Vollrath has always been passionate about education and we believe in supporting local events with young culinary talents," says Christina Wegner, Vollrath Marketing Vice President. "OCSA's entire culinary program and the Chef Throwdown Competition set a great example of how to provide high-quality and fun training for future chefs."

"Chefs' Toys values the deep connections that we have forged with our local culinary school community," says Tara Jaggars, TriMark Director of Ecommerce Operations. "We were fortunate to sponsor the inaugural Throwdown Culinary Competition and show our support for the OCSA culinary program and its young chefs."
