The first-ever porcelain dinnerware with built-in Microban technology, Constellation proactively defends your reputation – helping you confidently ensure a fresher dining experience. It adds a new level of 24/7 product protection, helping minimize microbial growth that contributes to the presence of bacteria, stains, and lingering odors and tastes – for ultimate peace of mind.

HOW IT WORKS

Microban technology is integrated into Constellation's fully vitrified glaze, for an additional level of defense that will never wash off. This advanced silver-based technology creates an inhospitable environment for microbes to help prevent them from growing on the surface.

Does not protect people from food-borne pathogens. Microban is a registered trademark of Microban Products Company.
